If you have additional comments or answered YES to any of the above please provide further details here:

In the summer just gone she was in a paddock that was pretty much eaten out. She developed a habit of chewing on posts and rails. From a distance, when she chewed the top of a post it looked suspiciously like she may have been windsucking. On closer examination there was however no audible grunting noise typically associated with windsucking. She was moved into a paddock with more feed in it and has not been seen to chew posts or rails since.
